MUSCLE SHOALS, WAGNER'S BILLS DOOMED TO DIE

A Pocket Veto For Each Measure Expected In Washington

BY PAUL R. MALLON

Washington, Mar. 2.—(UP)—President Hoover has received no offer of a bid to lease the Muscle Shoals fertilizer plant and expects none before Congress adjourns, it was learned today at the White House.

The President has received no communication from Henry Ford, who is being urged by Alabama officials to bid, it was said. The absence of private offers for the project was understood to have heightened Mr. Hoover's opposition to the Muscle Shoals bill, because it increases the possibility the government would have to operate the project.

Still Investigating
The War Department has not yet completed its investigation of the bill and there is little prospect of Mr. Hoover's sending his expected veto message to Congress before tomorrow or Wednesday, the White House indicated.

Mr. Hoover must await recommendation from the Department before he can say that action he is going to take, it was said.

A similar delay has likewise hit the third Wagner unemployment bill, which likewise appears to be marked for presidential disapproval. The Labor Department has been unable to complete its inquiry into the measure. The bill is subject to pocket veto unless the President expresses himself before noon, March 4.

At the White House today it was said there was no indication whether Mr. Hoover would be able to act within the allotted time.

The bill provides a national system of employment agencies in co-operation with the states, the Federal government furnishing half the funds and the states the other half.

TREASURY WILL EFFECT SAVING IN REFINANCING

Rock Bottom Interest Rates Carried On New Certificates

Washington, Mar. 2.—(AP)—A ten-million a year saving in interest will be effected by the Treasury the middle of this month through a $1,400,000,000 financing program.

Bonds and certificates will be issued at rock bottom interest rates—the lowest the government ever has obtained on a major financing enterprise. The Treasury will use the new issues principally to retire $1,100,000,000 of Treasury notes. The remainder is believed to be intended for meeting the 50 per cent loans now being made to veterans on their compensation certificates.

Dated March 16, the Treasury will sell at par $500,000,000 of 12-year 3 1/2 bonds; $300,000,000 of six-month 1 1/2 certificates of indebtedness and $600,000,000 of one year two per cent certificates. In addition to the retirement program and the veterans funds, there is about $30,000,000 of interest on the public debt due March 15.

At the time the Treasury gets in this money, returns on the quarterly income tax payments will be pouring in. A considerable drop is expected from March 15 of last year. Then $628,000,000 was paid on incomes; this year the experts are counting on about $500,000,000.

Temporarily this is expected to wipe out the present $226,000,000 deficit, but Secretary Mellon expects the red side of the national ledger will show a $500,000,000 total by the end of June.

The March refunding operation is the first of a series confronting the government at intervals all through the next two years.

PERJURERS SENTENCED

Chicago, March 2.—(AP)—Phillip Oliver and Joseph Persong of St. Paul, Minn., were sentenced today to a year and a day each in the Joliet penitentiary for perjury. Federal Judge Wham, in pronouncing sentence, said: "It is about time the people of this country began to realize they should not permit themselves to protect the criminal element."

Washington, Mar. 2.—(AP)—The Senate Judiciary committee today approved the nomination of John P. Barnes to be judge of the Northern Illinois District. The committee also approved the nominations of Frank K. Lemon, Clinton, to be U. S. Attorney for the Southern District and Arthur Burke to be Marshal of the Eastern District.

SUGGEST ROCK RIVER FISH AS FOOD TO NEEDY

Rockford Chapter Wal-tonian League Makes New Proposal

Springfield, Ill., Mar. 2.—(UP)—Proposal that the state exempt the Jack Walton League from a two cent a pound tax so that league members may seine fish from certain streams designated as state fish preserves and turn the "catch" over to unemployed needy at a low cost will be submitted to the State Department of Conservation, this week, it was learned here today.

Sponsors of the plan are W. A. Medaris, president of the Rockford Chapter of the League, and B. M. Allen, former Mayor of Rockford, who called at the office of Ralph Bradford, State Conservation Director today, to present their proposal.

Failing to find Bradford in Medaris and Allen declared their intention of returning to Rockford and of either taking the matter up by mail or of making a future appointment with Bradford here.

While the Rockford proposal was restricted to fishing the Kishwaukee and Rock rivers, it was said the idea might be extended to include all sections of the state which wish to benefit.

Tax Is Required

Present regulations of the State Department of Conservation, it was said, require a payment of two cents a pound on all fish seined from streams designated as preserves.

Medaris and Allen, it was stated, estimate that the cost of supplying fish at a central point in Rockford would be three cents. Charitable organizations, they are said to have declared, would supervise the sale of fish.

Medaris was quoted as saying the following:

"We are eager to sell fish at a low price for charitable purposes if we are not required to pay a two cent tax, but if we have to pay the tax on 14,000 pounds of fish, for example, it would amount to $280, and this is more than the League is able to pay."

Medaris said that he could avoid this, thousands of pounds of fish can be sold to a number of charitable organizations in Rockford, merely for the price of seining and hauling, which would amount to about three cents a pound."

Missing Aviatrix Found In Hospital

Monterey Cal., Mar. 2.—(UP)—Edna May Cooper, joint holder of the world's endurance flight record for women, who disappeared a week ago in Hollywood, was identified today as a patient in the Monterey Hospital.

Suffering from a lapse of memory apparently induced by a hard blow at the back of her head, Miss Cooper could give no explanation for her presence in Monterey.

Besides the head wound—an ugly abrasion and swelling—the right side of the aviatrix's body is black and blue, as though she had suffered a severe beating or had fallen heavily. Dr. Hugh Ormody, physician at the hospital, was inclined to believe Miss Cooper had not been in an automobile accident, as the body bruises were not accompanied by surface abrasions.

Says Legion Doesn't Represent Veterans

Hanover, N. H., March 2.—(UP)—Professor Adelbert Ames, Jr., son of the only surviving Union general of the Civil War, has resigned from the American Legion because he believes that organization no longer represents World War veterans.

Supporting his contention, the professor, a member of the Dartmouth College faculty, said the Legion should have asked Congress to aid disabled veterans, and perhaps also the unemployed ex-soldiers, but no assistance should have been requested for other veterans.

CARLSTROM NAMES DEPUTY

Springfield, Ill., March 2.—(UP)—Appointment of A. N. Tolliver, former County Judge and Assistant State's Attorney, as Deputy Attorney General was announced by Attorney General Oscar Carlstrom here today. Oddities in the NEWS

SUPERSTITION COSTLY

Libertyville, Ill., Mar. 2.—(UP)—Edward Cozel of Deerfield, Ill., doesn't believe in taking any chances when he sees a black cat.

He saw one yesterday. It ran in front of his automobile. Cozel decided to stop. He jammed on the brakes. They took hold so firmly his car skidded. Then it crashed into the machine of Ernest Butterfield of Libertyville. Butterfield's wife was injured. She was taken to a hospital.

WIFE DID TALKING

Chicago, Mar. 2.—(UP)—Rex Wright believes in preparedness against holdups, especially when the first of the month comes on Sunday.

He always carries a $500 check (it's a trick) and a fountain pen that contains tear gas instead of ink. Two men held up Wright and his wife Sunday in their rooming house. Wright was prepared as usual.

First, he handed the bandits the $500 check. He explained he had just taken the first of the month receipts to a friend, who put the money in a safe and gave the check as security.

"Now I'll endorse the check and you take it to my friend and he'll give you the money," said Wright, drawing the "fountain pen."

He pressed a button and instantly the room was filled with gas. Every body, including himself, began to cough and cry.

It was as bad for one as the other, so the weeping bandits took Mrs. Wright's jewelry, $400 worth, tied her and Wright to chairs locked them in the gas filled room and left them to weep and talk about Wright's preparedness ideas until help arrived.

Mrs. Wright, it is understood, did most of the talking.

Trotzky Is Burned Out Of House, Home

Istanbul, Turkey, Mar. 2.—(AP)—Leon Trotzky, Russian revolutionary leader who for more than a year has been a man without a country, has been burned out of house and home.

The villa which he has occupied during his exile on Prinkipo Island, in the Sea of Marmora, took fire before dawn yesterday and burned to the ground before Trotzky and his wife, both of whom are ill with malaria, could rescue more than a few of their possessions.

Trotzky was not able to save even a suit of clothes, but he did preserve some valuable letters from Lenin. Material for a book which he has been writing was lost as was his valuable library of hundreds of books. He managed to save a manuscript of a history of the Russian revolution which is about to be published.

Villa Park, Ill., Mar. 2.—(UP)—Safe robbers broke into the Ardmore Avenue station of the Chicago, Aurora & Elgin railroad here today and stole approximately $1,000 in cash. The loot represented heavy collections for commuter's tickets which could not be banked over the weekend. Police were unable to find marks of any tools on the safe and concluded it may have been left open by mistake when the night ticket agent went off duty.

The call specifies that the organization of a third party is not contemplated. Among the subjects to be considered will be the power issue.

PALMYRA FARM OWNER VICTIM OF NEW SCHEME

Columbus Man Alleged Perpetrator Of Confidence Game

Andy J. Head, alias Andy Davis, was arrested by detectives of Columbus, Ohio, Sunday afternoon on a charge of confidence game, preferred against him by a Palmyra township farmer. Sheriff Fred A. Richardson and Deputy Stoddard Danekas left today for Springfield with requisition papers for Head's return to Illinois, and will go from that city direct to Columbus. Head refused to return to Dixon without extradition papers when taken in custody yesterday.

Head is said to have secured approximately $1,400 from the owner of a farm in Palmyra township, of which he was to have taken possession as tenant this spring. He is alleged to have secured checks for this sum upon representation of being able to purchase agricultural implements and stock at a very low price 'the owner issuing the checks when the representation were made. Head cashing them and obtaining the money. He is alleged to have left Dixon suddenly and was traced to Columbus, Ohio, where it was reported that he was living with a woman. Sheriff Richardson forwarded the warrant to the Columbus detective bureau last Friday and his arrest followed Sunday, while he was making final plans to leave that city.

VIOLENT GALES SWEEP EUROPE: GREAT DAMAGE

Numerous Deaths Are Reported: Transportation Hit

London, Mar. 2.—(UP)—Northern Europe looked for an abatement today of violent weather that caused numerous deaths in storms and blizzards and harassed shipping during the week-end.

The entire crew of 16 aboard a Dutch fishing trawler from Ymuiden were believed drowned off Rosneath, Aberdeenshire, Scotland. The trawler was seen wallowing, bottom up, in tremendous seas. Assistance was impossible although the ship was not far from shore. One body was washed up on the beach.

Three fishermen were drowned in Seaton Sluice, Northumberland, when their boat capsized in a snow storm.

Violent gales in the Irish Sea and the English Channel handicapped continental steamers and kept smaller boats in port. The gale reached 70 miles an hour in the Irish Sea. Heavy snow storms were general in the British Isles. Four inches of snow was recorded in many parts of the London area.

Heavy blizzards were reported in Denmark. Several towns were flooded and the population of the fishing village of Rasmak evacuated when Dykes broke under unusually heavy water pressure.

Railroad and street car services were suspended or delayed over a wide area.

The southern section of Randers, Jutland, was submerged when the wind drove water into the town from the Harbor. Ground floors of houses had to be abandoned. Railroads in Russia were disorganized by violent snow storms.

"Heart Tag Day's" Receipts Were $187

The "Heart Tag Day" receipts when checked up by Miss Genevieve Lally who took charge of the Volunteers of America tag day held here on Saturday last, totalled the sum of $187.42.

The children worked faithfully in the morning until the close, and those interested in the affair are deeply grateful to all who in any way helped to make the undertaking a success.

At the close of the contest it was found that Zael Spinde was entitled to the first prize, having secured $1142 for her tags. The second prize was won by Esther Richardson who had $8.62. The third winner was Dorothy Cromwell who had $7.51. The fourth, fifth and sixth prizes were won by Barbara Campbell, Dorothy Stauffer, Ruth Crombie.

The other children were made happy with movie passes.

OVER SCORE OF DIXON VETERANS APPLY FOR LOAN

Adjutant Rae Arnould Of The American Legion Assists In Work

Over a score of Dixon World War veterans have already made application for loans on their compensation certificates, authorized by Congress last week, according to Rae Arnould, Adjutant of Dixon Post, No. 12, American Legion. Mr. Arnould has the necessary application blanks and will be glad to assist any veterans desiring to make such application.

Colonel Hugh Scott, Regional Director of the Bureau, said that he expected to mail 1,000 checks daily. Estimating the average loan to be approximately $250, Col. Scott said that between $25,000,000 and $55,000,000 would be expended to aid the Chicago veterans.

Payments to veterans in the mid-west will reach the $325,000,000 mark, it is believed. There are said to be 357,000 veterans in Illinois, and the states of Indiana, Michigan, Wisconsin and Iowa have 950,000 veterans eligible for the new bonus loans.

New and larger quarters were assigned to the Veterans Bureau today, to be manned by a greatly increased staff, after the Bureau was swamped by 18,000 applicants last Saturday.

CAPONE BORED WHEN SENTENCE IS PRONOUNCED

Chicago, March 2.—(UP)—Alphonse "Scarface Al" Capone heard today without finishing the sentence of Federal Judge James H. Wilkerson, committing him to six months in jail for criminal contempt of court.

Capone appeared to hear formal pronouncement of the sentence Wilkerson fixed last week.

The gang leader, listed as "Public Enemy No. 1," brought out of his wardrobe the most colorful of his clothing creations. During the three days of his trial, he wore three different suits. Today he had on still another. A dark green model, with light brown shoes and spats to set it off.

Another crowd fought and pushed at the courtroom doors to get inside.

"Not as big as last week," Capone commented.

He appeared bored as Judge Wilkerson read off the sentence.

Judge Wilkerson gave William Waugh, Capone's attorney, 10 days in which to file exceptions to the verdict, and 30 days to perfect an appeal.

The appeal must be filed with the clerk of the Appellate Court by June 1, Wilkerson ruled.

Capone's $5,000 bond will continue in force until then, permitting the gang leader his freedom.

"The bond is a ill good," Wilkerson said.

Capone was escorted to court by a police squad, which picked him up at Sixteenth and Michigan Avenues, outside the loop. It was assumed Capone had been staying at the Lexington Hotel nearby, once his headquarters.

The same police squad took him back to the same place and Capone waved farewell as he walked away.

Nordbye Nomination Dies In Committee

Washington, Mich. 2.—(AP)—The nomination of Gunnar H. Nordbye to be a Federal Judge for Minnesota was laid aside today by the Senate Judiciary committee at its last meeting of the session without action.

Failure to act virtually killed the nomination, which dies unless confirmed before the adjournment of the session on Wednesday.

After another hearing of the contest against Nordbye the Judiciary subcommittee, headed by Senator Plaine, Republican, Wis., declined to submit a report to the whole committee pending receipt of additional evidence.

Senator Scholl, Republican, Minnesota, has fought the nominee.

ATTORNEYS FOR DISPUTING MINERS COMING TO DIXON FRIDAY TO MEET WITH JUDGE EDWARDS ABOUT DECREE

Chicago, Mar. 2.—(UP)—Further efforts toward a compromise settlement of the factional quarrel in the United Mine Workers of America will be made at Dixon, Ill., Friday when representatives of the disputants will meet with Circuit Judge Harry Edwards.

The factions had been ordered to draw up terms of a decree to be pronounced by Judge Edwards. After conferences last week no agreement was reached and each party plans to submit a separate brief.

The general terms of the decree as outlined by Judge Edwards make permanent a temporary injunction restraining President John L. Lewis of the United Mine Workers from interfering with the Illinois district organization; denies the plea of the Illinois faction that it is a separate entity, and holds that rights of the "rump" organization in the international union have not been lost.

Floyd E. Thompson, attorney for the Illinois group, said today that additional informal discussion between the attorneys of the groups probably would be held at Dixon.

FIRE OPALS

The first thrill of autumn cools the air
And takes my thought so far away
That I forget the ugliness and noise
And dream I ride all leisurely through Pekin streets.
If riches goes in silence,
And blue sky and fleet white clouds are overhead
Pink plaster walls and quiet people pass me
Till I stop before the Temple Court to bargain at the Temple Fair until the sunset comes.
Then I ride home beside the moon that closes tight about the Palace walls.
Old lotus leaves bend down grotesquely
Above the still black waters that carry
Fire opals on their breasts,
The gifts of western skies.

Club Meeting Was Of Much Interest

The address by Mrs. Wilbur E. Fribley, state chairman of the American Home and Garden Dept. to the Dixon Woman's club on Saturday afternoon, proved to be one of unusual merit.
The speaker was introduced by Mrs. O. F. Goeke, local chairman of the same department. Mrs. Fribley covered the various phases of educational work which this division of the federation involves and it opened many avenues of thought for her interested listeners.
In her discussion of "Family Ethic" she urged the need of experts in this line appearing before groups in every community, thus giving parents the benefit of their detailed research work in sociology.
All will be delighted to know that Mrs. Fribley is to broadcast from WMAQ at 4 o'clock on Thursday, March 5th.
The walking rehearsal of the Illinois 1929 prize play "Between Trains" was most enthusiastically received. It is hoped that it will prove the inspiration for a number of local club women to compete in the 1931 poetry and play contest which is being sponsored by the State Literature Dept.
The four character-parts were read by Mrs. Eichler, Mrs. Bartholomew, Mrs. Kline and Mrs. Weis.
The hostesses served refreshments spring flowers and tapers being attractive table decorations. The committee consisted of Mesdames Barron, Wadsworth, Bennett, Blass, Crabtree, Hey, Lund, McGinnis, Petersberger, Stroup and Miss Edna Decker.

What Paris is Wearing

By K. DORSAY

PARIS—All the dressmakers, jewelers and florists in Paris are allied in a pact, so it would seem, against the superficial in French fashions. On every side, designers of every sort are giving out interviews declaring that women would appear to better fashion advantage if they would spend less money on clothes in quantity and wear only garments and accessories of first quality.
First-class materials, genuine furs and jewels, and real flowers are among the lists approved by fashion designers. No really smart woman—that is the present claim—will appear in public wearing imitation stones, dyed furs or artificial flowers. It is wise, they say, to wear the same garments and accessories many times and have them beautiful, than to have a number of inferior garments.
Among the by-products of this new fashion plan are a number of new styles—for scarves made in smaller sizes but of fine furs, evening clothes of simpler lines but made of rich fabrics, and accessories which provide for the wearing of live flowers. One of these—a diamond bracelet with a loop meant to hold flowers in place, is on display in a Rue de la Paix shop.

World's Employees May Launch Paper

New York, Mar. 2—(UP)—Former employees of the World newspapers, which merged last week with the New York Telegram, were still hopeful today that a newspaper would be formed, to use the equipment of the World plant on Park Row and continue in the Pulitzer Tradition.
James W. Barrett, chairman of the World Employees Association, announced last night after a conference with attorneys and financial interests that "there is a very decided prospect that a new newspaper will be launched in New York, on which former World employees will find very agreeable positions."
"If we can obtain a lease of the property," he said, "that would be of immense aid to us in the problem of financing the new venture."
The association has asked Roy W. Howard of the Scripps-Howard Newspapers, to set a price on the morning Associated Press franchise which went with the World and which is for sale.

ROASTING CONTROL IS FLAVOR SECRET OF RARE COFFEE

Scientific Control Gives Hills Bros. Coffee the Flavor of Flavors

Invariably foods cooked in small quantities taste the best. The cook is able to control every step—perfectly—mixing, flavoring and cooking.

The principle of Hills Bros.' patented, continuous roasting process is based on the same idea. Instead of roasting their exclusive blend of coffee in bulk, measured quantities of about three pounds pass continuously through the roasters. The heat and speed of operation are accurately controlled with the result that Hills Bros. Coffee is absolutely uniform.
No other coffee can have the same delicious, uniform flavor of Hills Bros. Coffee because no other coffee is roasted the same way. This process—Controlled Roasting—was originated and patented by Hills Bros.
The vacuum can in which Hills Bros. Coffee is packed keeps it fresh always. By the vacuum packing process, air, which destroys the flavor of coffee, is taken out of the can and kept out. Ordinary cans, even if air-tight, will not keep coffee fresh. Grocers everywhere sell Hills Bros. Coffee. Ask for it by name and look for the Arab—the trade-mark—on the can.

ARMY OF DROUTH VICTIMS READY TO GET LOANS

Government Completes Arrangements For Financing Them

By WILLIAM W. CHANCE

(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Washington, Mar. 2—(UP)—Arrangements were complete today for handling the army of drought-affected farmers who this week will follow World War veterans in seeking government loans.

By nightfall, the Agriculture Department expects to have received thousands of applications for food loans under the $20,000,000 appropriation blanks were being sent to offices at Memphis, St. Louis and Grand Forks, N. D., which will disburse the loans.
The army of hungry farmers is mobilizing in 21 states to borrow federal money with which to buy food, clothing and medicine. As collateral, they must give a first lien on their crops, as in the case of loans under the $45,000,000 drought relief appropriation.

Two classes of loans will be made:

1. Loans to individuals for creation or expansion of capital structure of agricultural and livestock credit corporations in local communities.

2. Loans for the "rehabilitation of agriculture."

The latter is the phraseology included in the bill at the insistence of President Hoover, who feared any loans other than those under the $45,000,000 seed, feed and fertilizer fund would be mistaken as "doles." Secretary of Agriculture Hyde has interpreted "rehabilitation of agriculture" to mean "just what it says," the money to be used for "loans not gifts."
Under the first classification, $10,000,000 is available for loans to farmers who subscribe to capital stock in credit corporations. In no case will loans be extended to members of corporations whose capital stock totals less than $25,000.
Under the second classification, the Agriculture Department will make loans direct to farmers who are not members of credit corporations according to Hyde.

Applications for loans first must be approved by a committee which is to be formed in each of the 21 states.

Only one has thus far been organized—in Arkansas—but the Department has compiled lists of prospective members for other state committees and expects to complete them this week.

A FUTILE GESTURE.

Edgar Lee Masters, the poet, had a very good time digging up the bones in the cemetery at Spoon River and making the ghosts talk. When he wrote his anthology he rattled the bone of everybody from the village milliner to the neglected wives.

Now he has gone back to the cemetery again, but this time he is trying to tear down a monument . . . the memorial that lovers of democracy everywhere have dedicated to Abraham Lincoln. Mr. Masters would take it right out of the graveyard and not even leave a marker.

The author of the new Lincoln book describes Abraham Lincoln as a petty politician.

A petty politician could scarcely have led a nation through the harrowing days of 1861 to 1865 and bound up its bruises at the close. It isn't likely that he would have expressed a sound theory of government that became symbolic of democracy around the world.

The shrines which have been elected to the memory of the great president have roots too deep for the little tin spade with which Mr. Masters must do his digging. They won't be moved.

And after all, even though the author might have expressed a truth here and there, we wonder why he considered it his duty to remove carnations from a cemetery again. The world has all too few heroes. It needs someone who is upright and staunch and stalwart to revere. Influence is very strong. They who take away trust and faith from others perform a wrong.

But Abraham Lincoln has his place. The book won't injure him. It was merely an unnecessary gesture which belongs in the cemetery where Mr. Masters appears to like to linger.

A PRIVILEGE TO DIE.

Anthony Mangino, 63, of Guttenberg, N. J., is reversing the whole code of criminal conduct. Most men who are given a death sentence plead for life imprisonment. If they can live, they will accept the prison background, they say, and while they say it there is a note of hope in their voices. Some day they think there will be a pardon.

But Anthony Mangino is different. He has been given a 20-year prison term for the murder of his wife, Rose Marie, and he has been pleading with Judge Charles M. Egan to give him the death sentence instead.

Mangino will be a very old man when the 20 years are over. The chances are that he will die sometime during the period. But even at that it is unusual for a man to ask for the privilege of sitting in an electric chair.

Maybe Mangino's age will explain it. He is through with the useful period of living. He has reached that age where men look backward, dream dreams, and remember. And naturally Rose Marie, who was his wife, come slipping back with his yesterdays. He has said that the shooting was an accident which occurred when the two were struggling for the possession of a revolver in their grocery store. His backward look isn't going to be a happy one. He hasn't any future for which to hope. His play didn't end with the encore. It isn't surprising that he wants to die.

A DISMAYING SPECTACLE.

The sidelights which big-city politics throws on the workings of democracy in America are sometimes rather dismaying.

In the Chicago mayoralty campaign, for example, there were two leading candidates openly accusing one another of being "nutty" and "imbecilic," and tossing epithets at one another in a way more reminiscent of a bar-room brawl than a supposedly sober political race.

Chicago has had plenty of trouble in recent years; and when the leading contenders in a race for the mayoralty indulge in cheap personalities of that kind, instead of confining themselves to a serious discussion of the important issues involved, the spectacle is discouraging beyond measure. Does one have to be something of a clown to carry an election in a large American city?

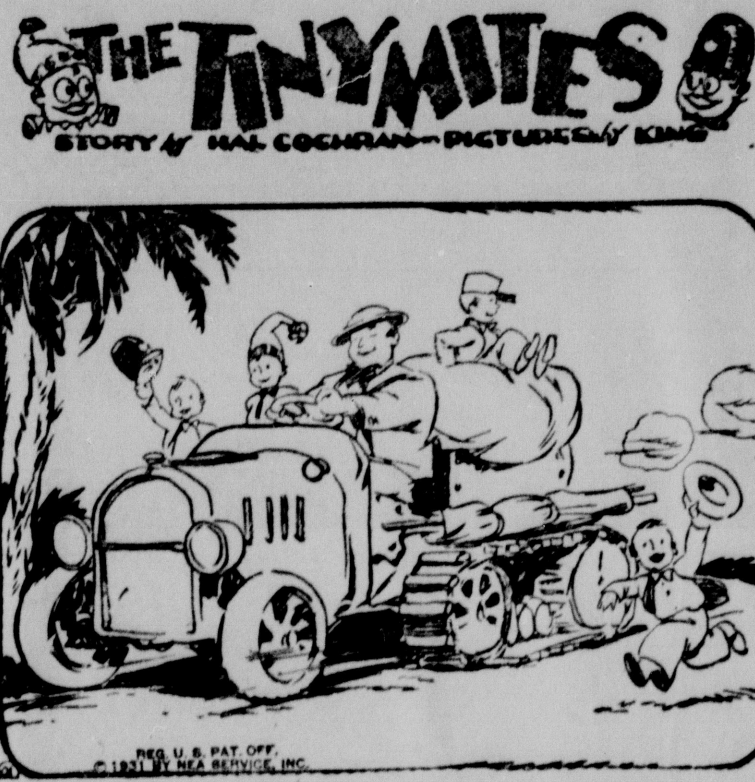

The Prince of Wales once said he would like to be a newspaper man. If he ever took the job, we'll wager the first thing the editor would do is put up a kick over his traveling expenses.

This dunking controversy is the south, wisecracks the office sage, might give poets good material for many spring pones.

A man ejected from a football game last fall has just collected $1000 damages. He may have been bounced, but he came back strong on the rebound.

Friday, March 13, may be unlucky, but just think of March 15th. That's the day your income tax is due.

They left the papaw grove and then walked right back into town again. The Travel Man said, "I think we had best be on our way. We've seen enough of this fine town and ere the brilliant sun goes down, I'd like to move to some place else. There is no need to stay."

"All right," replied the Tynmites. "We're always glad to see new sights. Just how far is the next town and are we to walk or ride?" Then Clowdy added, "For my part I'd like to hire a horse and cart. We've always found it heaps of fun, whenever that's been tried."

"You win!" replied the Travel Man. "I guess, by riding, that we can reach some new town before the dawn. Wait here. I'll get the cart." The cart was hired and with a grin, the Travel Man cried, "Hop right in! I love to ride by twilight and it's time that we depart."

The journey out across the land was picturesque and very grand. The Tynmites all took turns at getting just a wink of snooze. Then Clowdy sat up straight and said, "Oh, gee, how pretty just ahead. I love the scene by night, e'en though some sleep I lose."

(The Tynmites visit some famous diamond mines in the next story.)

SETTERS GIVING UP JOB OF MOTHERHOOD TO MACHINES
Des Moines, Ia.—(UP)—The setting hen is fast losing out to modern machinery in hatching eggs, and, according to the modern science of hatchery, is better off because deprived of the privilege of motherhood. H. E. Gordon, of the Iowa Poultry Improvement Association told chicken raisers in convention here.

Encroachment of incubators upon the hen's hatching output has caused 40,000,000 of the state's 100,000,000 baby chicks to be hatched by artificial means in the last year, Gordon said.

Hens lay better, and are in better condition physically when they are not put on the nest, Gordon said.

BIRTH OF SCHURZ

On March 2, 1829, Carl Schurz, a famous American political leader and soldier, was born near Cologne, Germany. Educated at the University of Bonn, he later took part in the revolutionary movement of 1848, but was finally forced to flee to Switzerland.

He emigrated to the United States in 1852 and settled at Watertown, Wis. Less than 10 years later he was appointed minister to Spain by President Lincoln, but resigned at the outbreak of the Civil War to join the Union Army. Appointed brigadier general and later promoted to major general, Schurz commanded a division at Chancellorsville and a corps at Gettysburg.

After the war he engaged in journalistic work. From 1869 to 1875 he was United States senator from Missouri. He presided over the Cincinnati convention which nominated Greeley for president. From 1877 to 1881 he served as secretary of the Interior.

In 1913, seven years after his death, a monument was erected to him on Morningside Heights.

It's a far cry from the cow country to Broadway. But what it takes to make the broncho buster "open up" about his cigarette is exactly what you want in your smoke. Good taste—and lots of it! And that is first a matter of tobacco quality, never forget it! What you taste in Chesterfield is ripier, better tobaccos—not another thing—blended and "cross-blended" to a fragrant, satisfying mildness that is Chesterfield's own!

Greater mildness
... better taste!

During this period there has been no development of tested value or importance to the smoker which we have not incorporated into the making of Chesterfield cigarettes.

COBB DREAMS OF BIG GAME HUNTS IN DARK AFRICA

Famous Ball Player Is Enthusiastic In All He Does

By DILLON GRAHAM
Atlanta, Ga.—(AP)—Ty Cobb sits in a big easy chair, smoke rings curling around his lean head and bronzed features, and dreams of the big game he is going to hunt some day in Africa. He has been doing that for years. He has never been closer to the jungles with a gun than Canada.

But he dreams on. Plans have been changed and rechanged. Bear, mountain lions, moose have fallen before his crack shooting on preparatory trips. He wants those elephants, crocodiles and rhinos. But something else always comes up.

Golf is his game now. He plays with the same fervor and zest that made him the center fielder of all time. He shoots in the low eighties and his ball is left handed. He tries to kill the ball on every long shot and so he presses.

Ty was playing one day with Bobby Jones over a North Carolina course. They were off their respective games. Both were slightly peeved.

Coming up to the eighteenth tee Cobb decided to drive right handed and Bobby swung from the left side. They put four balls in a creek in front of the green. So solemnly they shook hands and went home.

Can't Bear to Lose

Cobb can tell you from Ty's footstep whether he has won or lost. It used to be the same when he was playing baseball. He puts the same fervor and dash into both games. The stronger the opposition, the better he plays. And he can't bear to lose—at anything.

The last time he wrestled with his 14-year-old son, Herschel, a husky 155 pound lad, it took everything Ty had to down the boy. He hasn't wrestled Herschel since. He won't let his son throw him. But he loves to play with the kids.

Next to golf, Ty likes to fish and hunt. He prides himself on being able to take young fellows out and walk 'em down. He quit baseball because his legs went back on him. He goes after birds on horseback and hunts fox at night. He has to exercise daily or he feels badly.

Since retirement Cobb feels like a schoolboy on vacation. He has no desire to play ball again. Some day he may purchase a ball club, as baseball means nothing but hard work to him after his first year as hitting champion. He had to struggle too hard to protect his record.

Ty was one of the most superstitious men in baseball. When he saw a wagon load of barrels passing he was in for a good day. Every hair pin he found meant a base hit. During a hitting streak he would never change sweat shirt or socks. He still won't leave his bat on a bed or walk under a ladder. He turns his back if a black cat comes his way and crosses the fingers on both hands if he meets someone whose eyes are out of line.

"TENNIS BUM" TO BE INVESTIGATED BY SOCIETY

U. S. L. T. A. Order Inquiry Into Player Expense Funds

By DIXON STEWART

New York, March 2.—(UP)—With hope of winning the Davis Cup temporarily abandoned, the United States Lawn Tennis Association has turned its attention to the elimination of the "tennis bum."

"Tennis bums," athletes who are enabled to live luxuriously without working and to spend their time traveling about the country playing tennis on "expense account" money without forfeiting their amateur standing, are a product of tennis over-emphasis.

While the United States dominated Davis Cup competition the "tennis bums" escaped official attention. Tournament promoters bid against each other for star players and until the U. S. L. T. A. established a $25 per day limit for the living expenses of players during tournaments it was possible for players to name their own price for playing.

Now that Tilden has turned professional and Johnny Doeg and Wilmer Allison have indicated they will be unavailable for European play, the United States has virtually no chance of regaining the Davis Cup this year and the U. S. L. T. A. considers the time auspicious for a house cleaning.

The tennis association has announced its opposition to players receiving "unlimited free board and lodging" in exchange for participation in tournaments under its jurisdiction and has instructed the amateur rules committee to investigate the payment of living and traveling expenses to tournament competitors.

The amateur rule committee is headed by former President Jones W. Macrae, whose appointment was announced yesterday. It has been instructed to report to the executive board its recommendations as to whether expense payments should be more definitely controlled and how such expenses may be limited to a "reasonable extent."

The resolution authorizing the investigation was adopted at the annual U. S. L. T. A. meeting last month, in keeping with recommendations made by Chairman Ward, but was not made public until yesterday.

"Blues" Assail Bird World As Hawks Migrate

New York—Every day is "blue Monday" for the Missouri Game and Fish Department right now. Even the small game of the state is suffering from the "blues," and officials of the department have appealed to all sportsmen to "see blue."

This indigo condition of affairs has not been induced by dread of a hard winter for wild life, the department has reassured the American Game Association.

Arrangements for carrying the birds of Missouri safely over the snowy season, by supplying food and shelter through many agencies, were reported to be progressing splendidly—until this attack of the "blues."

"Blues" is the department's name for the thousands of bird-killing hawks which have swarmed into the state to escape severe weather in the sections farther north, bringing a vexing problem upon the heads of game protectors. Complaints of unprecedented hawk activities are coming from other states also.

To most gunners a hawk is a hawk. Some species of hawks, however, are regarded as valuable to agriculture and highly beneficial to bird life, since they feed principally on rats, mice and snakes.

To protect these desirable hawks Missouri had to declare it a misdemeanor to kill any hawks save the known outlaws—the Cooper's hawk, the sharpshinned hawk, and the goshawk.

New gunners are said to be afraid to shoot any hawks, for fear of killing the wrong kind.

The Missouri department studied the situation, and believes it has solved it by announcing that every hawk whose feathers have a blue cast is one of an outlaw species.

It is urging every sportsman to be sure to "see blue before seeing red" and to save the hawks that are not blue.

STARS OF NOTRE DAME TO APPEAR IN DIXON GAME

They Will Play Benefit For St. Ann's Church On Saturday, Mar. 14

Three All-American stars and seven other members of Notre Dame's 1930 national championship grid machine will swap their modest for basketball to appear in a benefit game at the new Dixon high school gymnasium, Saturday, March 14, according to word received today from the department of sports publicity at South Bend, Ind. Gus Bondi of this city, a member of the sports department, announced the completion of plans to bring the national luminaries to Dixon.

Opposition will be furnished by a team of former college aces who have been playing on various teams of the industrial cage league this winter. The Notre Dame All-Stars will not rely on their gridiron fame alone to draw a crowd to the charity contest as nearly all of them have had experience under Coach George E. Keogan, Irish cage mentor, who has turned out some of the best teams in collegiate history while at Notre Dame.

Captain Tom Conley, right end with the undefeated Rockne football eleven was a second string guard on last year's basketball team and would be a regular this year but for the fact that he preferred to play in a holiday game on the coast.

Frank Carideo, the peerless quarterback who won undisputed All-American honors in 1929 and 1930, was also a member of last year's cage squad, and with Marcy Schwartz, the soft-spoken, hard hitting All-American left half of the 1930 South Bend Typhoon, appeared in a charity game during the winter in Chicago. Schwartz was a prep star at Bay, St. Louis, Miss., high school.

Marty Brill, son of the Philadelphia street car magnate, who was placed on Rockne-Warner-Jones-Alexander mythical team, and a number of others at right half, is the third All-American who will appear in Dixon.

"Big Tim" Moynihan, rangy center on the national championship 1929 team and center coach for the 1930 team, one of the most colorful players football has ever seen, is another man who knows the intricacies of the hardwood game. He was second string center on Keogan's basketball team for three years.

Completing the list are Al Culver, stolid left tackle, called, "the most under-rated player of the 1930 season," who returns next fall for more football; Frank (Nurdy) Hoffman, who learned enough football in a year from Rockne and Line Coach Hunk Anderson to rise from the reserves to the shock troops without having any prep school experience; Bernie Leahy, shock troop left half and star forward with Paddy Driscoll's St. Mel high cage team in Chicago; and Frank Leahy who was injured at the beginning of the past season after winning a first tackle berth.

The game is expected to draw a capacity crowd at the spacious new Dixon high school gymnasium, because of the great interest in Notre Dame in Dixon and vicinity and surrounding towns and villages. Gus Bondi of Dixon won two monograms at guard with the 1927 and 1928 teams and John "Red" Leahy of Dixon, was a star tackle man at Notre Dame a few years ago.

The game between the Dixon and Notre Dame All-Stars will be played for the benefit of St. Ann's Catholic church of this city.

The rest of the squad was due for today's drill under penalty of having a day's pay lopped off their future salary checks for every day they are late.

The Belvidere Moose basketball team emerged champions of the northwest Illinois independent tournament in which 16 teams participated at the new Moose hall last week, the tourney closing Saturday night. The Dixon Battery Shop squad fought until the final game in an attempt to wrest the honors, but failed in their final game. The DeKalb Vikings, weakened in the opening game with the champions and a field basket resulted in their defeat, the final count being 31 to 29.

Princeton, another championship threat, was subdued in the second game when the Dixon Battery Shop administered a 29 to 25 drubbing. In the third game, Princeton after a half hour rest, could not collect themselves in their second of the evening against the DeKalb Vikings and were humiliated by a 60 to 29 overwhelming count. Jones arrives yesterday to make short pictures for Warner Brothers on the subject "How I Play Golf." The studio plans to complete the series within six weeks and the golfers and would-be golfers of the country can have the Jones' instruction for the price of a theater ticket just about the time the golf season of 1931 starts in earnest in the snow belt.

Jones was sure of one thing, that there will be no romantic element in his pictures. He shifted nervously when a reporter asked him if he desired his leading lady to come from the blonde, brunette or red-headed groups of film beauties.

No Leading Lady
"They couldn't get me to play in one of those love pictures," he said. "I'm going to stick to something I know a little about."

"The first picture will be about putting," Jones explained. "They won't be so complicated that a non-golfer cannot understand them. The first one will open with a fellow on the green. When he misses a putt I will kid him about it and tell him he needs more practice. Then I'll give him a little instruction."

Bobby said that other pictures of the series will include use of driving clubs, irons, and the best manner of getting out of the rough, over bunkers and out of sand traps.

Jones said he really had enjoyed golf since he retired from competition after breaking all records by winning four major titles—the British open and amateur and the American open and amateur—in one year. "I played golf a lot down south this winter," he said. "I enjoyed it more than any time in my life because I was under no strain of any kind."

HEAVY TURNOVER ON CHAMPIONS IS EXPECTED IN '31

That Is, If Some Of The Present Titleholders Can Be Induced

By DIXON STEWART
United Press Staff Correspondent

New York.—(UP)—Five world boxing champions were crowned during the past year and if title-holders can be prevailed upon to defend their honors against worthy opponents it is probable that 1931 will witness an equally heavy turnover.

The present champions are:
Heavyweight—Max Schmeling—x
Light-heavy—Maxie Rosenbloom—x

Middleweight—Mickey Walker.
Welterweight—Tommy Freeman—x
Junior-welter—Jack Berg—x
Lightweight—Tony Canzoneri—x
Junior-lightweight—Benny Bass.
Featherweight—Bat Battalino.
Bantamweight—Al Brown.
Flyweight—Frankie Genaro, Midget Wolgast (disputed).
x—Won title during 1930.

Berg, Bass and Brown unquestionably are the best men in their respective divisions, and Genaro and Wolgast, who fought a draw in their attempt to settle the flyweight dispute, rate far above other midget performers.

Walker Getting Heavy
Mickey Walker, one of the best of modern ringmen, is far superior to any middleweight contender but there are serious doubts as to his ability to make the 160-lb limit. Walker has been campaigning among the heavyweights, and it is probable that he will abandon his present title.

Every other division boasts one or more men recognized generally as superior to the champion. Max Schmeling is conceded little chance to survive the program mapped out for him this summer and Young Stribling is expected to succeed to the championship.

Maxie Rosenbloom has demonstrated superiority over an inferior crop of light heavyweights, but if Mickey Walker carries out his reported intention of trying for the 175-pound diadem it is a good bet that he will transform Rosenbloom into an ex-champion.

Tommy Freeman acquired the welterweight title through a surprising and questionable victory over Young Jack Thompson last fall. When he is finally induced to defend his honors promoters will have a choice of at least five fighters who appear capable of defeating him. They include Young Corbett, King Tut, Billy Petrolle, Jack Berg and Jimmy McLarnin.

The lightweight title changed hands twice last year on one-round knockouts. If promoters are able to arrange a 1931 series including cham-

THE CALL OF THE OUTDOORS

Quail Moratorium Declared
Reports from all of the states most seriously affected by the drought of 1930 indicate an appalling shortage of bobwhite quail last fall. Many of the officials and sportsmen of the drought-stricken area claim that there were practically no young birds reared and that apparently the shortage of moisture reduced the crop of insects for the young birds last summer, also that the cover and weed crop was far below normal. Here is a great chance for some real fact-finding.

Missouri reported only a fifty per cent quail crop. When conditions became known the Missouri Council of the Izak Walton League declared a moratorium on bobwhite for the balance of the season. In the absence of state authority to close the season a statewide campaign was launched by the Council to save the seed stock. A notice, prominently posted throughout the state, read in part: "All members of the Izak Walton League and all sportsmen in sympathy with our cause are asked to put up their guns and declare a moratorium on quail for the rest of the season."

A special winter feeding campaign is now being waged throughout the entire northern range of the quail in the hope of saving the seed stock. It is hoped that this situation will not result in the kind of hysteria that can see no way out but closed season for 1931. The better plan will be intensive feeding, saving cover next spring, stopping fires and predator, and trapping or otherwise scattering and intermixing convey next spring.

pion Tony Canzoneri, Justo Squarez, Petrolle and Berg the record may be duplicated.

But Battalino's surprise victory over Kid Chocolate showed that the Hartford Kid was far from a "cheese champion" but the Bat would be no better than an even money choice against any of his fellow Italians—Kid Francis, Eddie Shea, Fidel LaBarba or Earl Mastro.

Eller of Freeport, Rev. P. O. Balle of Stockton, a former Polo pastor and Rev. William Bauscher of Freeport were out of town pastors present. The orchestra played several selections and the male quartette ladies quartette and octette gave several numbers. Rev. Bauscher favored the gathering with a vocal solo.

A subscription of $2150.00 was raised to pay for remodeling the basement. Only last September a subscription of $2200.00 was raised to pay for remodeling and redecorating the church auditorium. The pastor, Rev. S. G. Eberly is justly proud and the generous donations made by his parishioners.

Mr. and Mrs. Alex. Temple and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ports returned home Friday from California where they had spent the past several weeks.

Mrs. Melvin McCartney and infant son returned home Thursday from the Deaconess Hospital at Freeport.

Leo McCormick and John Innis of Sterling spent Thursday night with Edward McGrath.

John Neck of Winona, Minn., spent Thursday night and Friday in the Mrs. Maria Klock home.

Stomach Ulcers Cause Life of Misery

Formerly Were Hard to Cure—But Now You Have Only to Take ULCICUR

While Ulcers of the Stomach are today probably afflicting a greater number of people than ever before in history—owing to the changes in food habits and other environments of present day civilization—it is indeed fortunate that we have a remedy for Ulcers as dependable as ULCICUR. Not only will ULCICUR quickly remedy an ulcerated condition but it will also bring relief for almost any stomach disorder.

Mr. D. J. Eugene of 1252 Thorndale Ave., Chicago, Illinois reporting on the condition of his wife says: "She was at the Lakeside Hospital, taken there after she had had 23 hemorrhages one day, brought on by stomach ulcers. Doctors said an operation was necessary. But she could take no nourishment to build up for an operation. Heard of ULCICUR and tried it. She is in better health today than ever before. Gained 35 pounds—and weighs more than in last ten years. Eats anything and everything with no ill-effects. I owe you a lot."

ULCICUR is recognized as the treatment in demand for stomach ailments, so nearly every drug store carries it in stock continually, making it easy for you to try a bottle. If for any reason your nearest druggist happens to be without it, ask him to get a bottle for you.

PLANS FOR 1931 MUSIC FESTIVAL ARE BEING MADE

The Evening Telegraph To Again Cooperate In Chicago Festival

Chicago—Plans for the 1931 Chicagoland Music Festival, to be conducted again by The Chicago Tribune and associated daily newspapers in the middle west, are under way. The second festival will be climaxed by a two-night concert program in Soldiers' Field, before a combined audience of more than 300,000 people. The dates for the finals have not been set, but will be some time in August. The United States again will listen in, as the closing entertainments will be broadcast through WGN. The Chicago Tribune station on the Drake hotel, and through the National Broadcasting company network.

Last summer more than 5,000 individuals participated in the contests held under the supervision of The Tribune and 27 associated newspapers. This year the list will be enlarged to include 50 dailies.

Almost overnight stars in the music world were made by the festival. Organizations such as bands, choruses and quartet which received the gold medals awarded winners have presented concert attended by thousands, while John Burdette, the colored baritone who sang "Ol' Man River" before the 150,000 in Soldiers' Field and was called upon for many encores, is now about to make an American tour with engagements in Europe for 1932.

Girl Now Radio Star
Miss Agatha Lewis, second prize winner in the soprano division, is now one of the leading radio stars in Chicagoland, heard each week from WGN.

The Cedar Falls Municipal band, first place winner in the adult band division, and sent to Chicago by the Waterloo Tribune, has had a most successful season, and has carried the glory of its great triumph in Chicago throughout the western states.

The Chicagoland Festival started a musical renaissance in America. From the Pacific coast to the Atlantic coast to the Atlantic seaboard newspapers and organizations have taken up the idea and benefitted by the great song fest held in Chicago last summer. The radio program heard over 15 stations was adjudged one of the outstanding musical treats of the air in 1930.

Bigger and Better
But what was of gigantic proportion last summer will be enlarged in the second festival. Where last year twelve bands paraded into Soldiers' field, this summer there will be 25. In the first festival 5,000 people, led by Noble Cain, lifted their voices in Handel's "Messiah." This time the number will be doubled. A thousand bandmen in 1930 thrilled the crowded amphitheater with Sousa's marches. Next summer you'll hear twice that number.

Numbers alone, however, will not be the dominant factor in the second festival. The spirit of friendly competition and the desire to unite Chicagoland in song again will be the guiding hand. From the smallest daily at Spencer, Ind., to the largest, The Tribune, all contributed to making last year's show the success it was. From Peoria, Ill., Davenport, Ia.; Racine, Wis.; and many other places came hundreds of rooters for home-town talent. They came in automobiles, in buses, whole train loads to applaud Alice Jane, a soprano and Johnny White, the cornetist. They'll come in even greater numbers in August.

Festival Now Opened
The 1931 Chicagoland Music Festival is officially opened with this announcement. Readers are asked to inquire further of its plans.

These Workers Make Money—and Lots Of It!

There are few money-makers anywhere who can compare with the workers at the British mint in London, and here are photos showing how the shilling—the English silver piece that ranks approximately with the American 25-cent piece—is turned out. At the left a worker runs silver strips through a cutting machine that cuts out the new coins. Above, at the right, workers are sorting the new shillings for defects. Below the shillings are being weighed in bags. Each of the bags shown contains coins worth 100 pounds—$500 in American money.

Sweden's Rulers Pose For First Picture of a Royal Family Holding Court

Here's a scene never before revealed to the eyes of any but those privileged to be guests—a European royal family holding court. Members of the reigning house of Sweden are shown in this rare Evening Telegraph-NEA Service photo as they awaited the presentation of the season's debutantes at the historic Ball of Innocence in the royal palace at Stockholm. Left to right, dressed in regal court attire, are Prince Carl, Princess Ingeborg, Crown Prince Adolf, and Princess Ingrid. The heir apparent presided at the formal ceremony.

POET'S CORNER

PASSING OF THE CELEBRATED BIRD, "DICKY JONES"

He is vanished from his sunny bowers.

Wrecked on Death's dark sunken reef;

Faded with the fading flowers, Fallen with the falling leaf.

He was truly and most emphatically the very embodiment of all that was exquisite in the harmony of sound, and could touch the chords that vibrate to the inmost recesses of our hearts with his unrivalled powers of melody. His songs were always fresh and very generally of a lively character—frequently running into the comic, without a particle of Ethiopian or Black-bird vulgarity. No one among his relatives who in spring or early summer dwell in fields of grass or flowers, or under the wide-spreading branches of shade-trees, could be more happy, or sing with greater cheerfulness, than he.

His early life was spent among a large collection of canaries, from whom he learned much which added to his natural powers, and made him at all times and seasons a remarkable character. His matin songs were a joyous gush of music to greet the meek-eyed morning, with now and then a prolonged trill, or sweet carol, like the plaintive notes of the Robin, or the flute-like tones of the Oriole. Thus, died, in the prime and vigor of his extraordinary powers, the beloved little songster, "Dickie Jones", most truly to him. Belonged the lay that lightly floats,

And his the murmuring dying notes,

That fell as softly as snow on the sea.

And could melt the heart as instantly.

Take him back to the vale where he used to belong.

To the sweet sunny meadows of music and song.

Take him back to the land where he used to be free—

Lay him low beneath the shade of the witch-azel tree?

Take him back to the vale where the wild roses bloom.

Let the Bird orchestra chant o'er his tomb;

Let his own meadow-daisy gleam bright o'er his breast—

Lay him low in the grass by the Bob-o-link's nest.

I know that the song that he sang in his cell,

Might have seemed like the song of his own happy dell;

But alas! while he caroled his sweet mellow lay,

While his song was the sweetest, his heart was away?

His heart was away in the green sunny bowers.

Where Bob-o-link anthems are chanted 'mid flowers;

His heart stole away to the meadow ow and lea.

Where once his sweet song was the song of the tree?

Think you that the prisoner, bound in his gloom,

Could cheerfully warble his song of "Sweet-Home?"

Think you that his soul could partake of those strains,

Mid the grating and jarring, and clanking of chains?

No? no? the proud spirit would sink neath its weight.

And perish 'mid tears, that were poured through the grate;

He might sing of home, though his soul would rebel;

He might sing, although dying alone in his cell?

Oh? then take him back to his own happy vale.

Where he sang his first song in the sweet summer gale;

Lay him low by the stream where

Charges Against Sen. Schall Filed

St. Paul, Minn., Feb. 28—(UP)—

Charges on which the Minnesota Democratic State Central Committee

It was generally known however that the committee intends to accuse

Call for Fair Play Wins Public Support

A Message from
L. A. Downs,
President,
Illinois Central System.

The appeal of the railroads for equality of competition in transportation has won the support of the public.

From press, platform, mail and personal interview has come approval of the aggressive declaration of the railroads.

This response shows that the American people realize that:

No other transportation set-up can permanently supplant the railroads;

Without subsidies or other unfair advantages much of the railroads' competition could not survive;

A square deal in transportation is the only way in which the interest of the public itself can be fairly served.

Constructive criticism and suggestions are invited.

PAW PAW NEWS

Paw Paw—The Pogue Lumber Co. changed hands Thursday. One of the most important business deals made in Paw Paw for years was closed. The Pogue Lumber Co. sold their yards and business at this place to the Alexander Lumber Co.

The latter company is a chain yard organization with yards at present in Shabbona and Earlville. They also own the C. B. Moore Lumber Co., operating in Compton. They operate about 125 yards all told. The Paw Paw yard will make their coverage of this territory practically complete. R. D. Browning is the new manager of the yard. He is a most pleasant gentleman, and comes to Paw Paw from Christopher, Ill., in Franklin county.

At the end of the school year Mr. Browning will move his wife, two sons and one daughter to Paw Paw for their future home.

The transfer marks the end of the Pogue Lumber Co. in Paw Paw after thirty-six years of continuous business. It was on May 14th, 1894 that a deal was made and on the following day an inventory was taken. Casper Lang who had conducted the business previously stepped out and Robert Pogue took over the management of the business. From that day until last Thursday Mr. Pogue has continued without intermission in active control of the business. In addition, he has found time to take part in practically every effort put forth for the best things in Paw Paw and community.

In the days of the old Chautauqua he was always a dependable supporter of that institution. He has served the village freely on the Village Board, acting as president of the board several terms the honor coming to him unsought. He has been active in the work of the Masonic Lodge. In the Presbyterian church he has been a leading figure for many years. Mr. Pogue states that he has no plans at present for any change. He will devote his time for the present to looking after the collection of the amounts due his firm. The deal did not involve the yards at Waterman also owned by the Pogue Lumber Co. His son Kenneth Pogue will continue as manager of that business.

Friday morning a very interesting talk accompanied by pictures and Hawaiian guitar music was given by Duke Van Buren.

He carried us in thought about a seven days' journey westward to the Hawaiian Islands. They were greeted by a native woman, who immediately placed garlands of native flowers around their necks. The price of these is sometimes as high as five dollars.

The population of the Islands is made up of 40% Japanese and 20% Americans, the remainder consisting of Hawaiians and Portuguese. These people do not live in grass huts as most people believe, and the only one to be found is placed in a museum.

The most important products are sugar cane, coconuts, bananas and pineapples. Other tropical fruits can be grown in abundance, because the ideal temperature of 78 is averaged throughout the year.

Your former beliefs about grass skirts must be shattered for they are not a native costume. They are manufactured in the United States for about 18c apiece, and sent to the Islands where they bring as high as $20. Then they are bought by Americans as souvenirs of the Islands.

And now should any of you care to go to this "Paradise of the Pacific" quoting the words of Jack London, you may know something of its nature.

W. S. Whiteman, Pastor
On Tuesday evening the young people of the Methodist church entertained the young people of the Paw Paw Baptist and Presbyterian churches at a Washington party in the Methodist church parlors. After an evening delightfully spent in games directed by Miss Park, a delicious lunch was served. About seventy-five were present.

Supt. Barton brings out many facts of interest before P. T. A.

Did you know that at one time there were two Chicago-Galena highways, one south through Paw Paw and one north through Elgin? Did you know that the first blacksmith shop in Illinois was on top of Starved Rock? Did you know that before Gen. U. S. Grant had become world famous that he was so lightly regarded in Galena, his home town, that he could not get the city council to build a sidewalk to his home?

These interesting facts, and many, many others of a like nature were brought out by Supt. H. C. Barton in the course of an intensely interesting address before the P. T. A. at the Auditorium Monday evening. Mr. Barton held his audience with pleasing renditions of interesting incidents connected with the history of northern Illinois. He said his talk had been announced as geological, geographical and historical, but as the geological story had been some millions of years in preparing, the historical story had been going on for more than two and a half centuries, he would confine himself to the geographical features.

He then plunged into one of the most interesting talks presented here in a long time. His closing admonition was that there was no need to travel afar for the beauties of nature but should "See Illinois First." The points he touched upon were such as to interest, teach and inspire his audience, both old and young. A feature of the meeting was the large audience of school children present to hear Mr. Barton's talk.

Mrs. Emmerton of the program committee first called on Ruth Politsch who sang two soprano solos, "Bird Songs at Eventide," and "Snow Flakes." Her offerings were much enjoyed.

Keith Reynolds also sang two solos in a clear high baritone very pleasing to his audience. He sang "The Sea is Cobblestone Road." Mrs. Nangle accompanied both singers.

During the business meeting Mrs. Zartou reported on the work of the Child Study class which had held twelve meetings and used three text books. An average of more than ten mothers attended the meetings. Mrs. Barton advised every mother to read "Your Child Today and Tomorrow" which may be secured from the school library.

On recommendation of one of the state vice presidents, President Yenrich appointed F. E. Nangle and J. R. Reynolds a committee to investigate and report on House Bill No. 67. The "Summer Roundup" idea was explained by Pres. Yenrich as a possible activity of the association. It involves the gathering together each summer of all the children in the district who will start school the first time in the fall, and have them examined by a physician and dentist preparatory to school work. On motion of J. R. Reynolds the chair was instructed to appoint a committee to have the matter in charge.

The committee will be named later. The entire meeting was exceptionally interesting.

STANLEY C. WILSON, GOVERNOR OF VERMONT, SAYS:
THAT a man who does not speak

well of his home town and his home state generally is not of much benefit to either. There are always good things that can be told about our neighbors where they live, and their ways of living, and if we will only remember that we are all neighbors and kin, the business of government will be much easier.

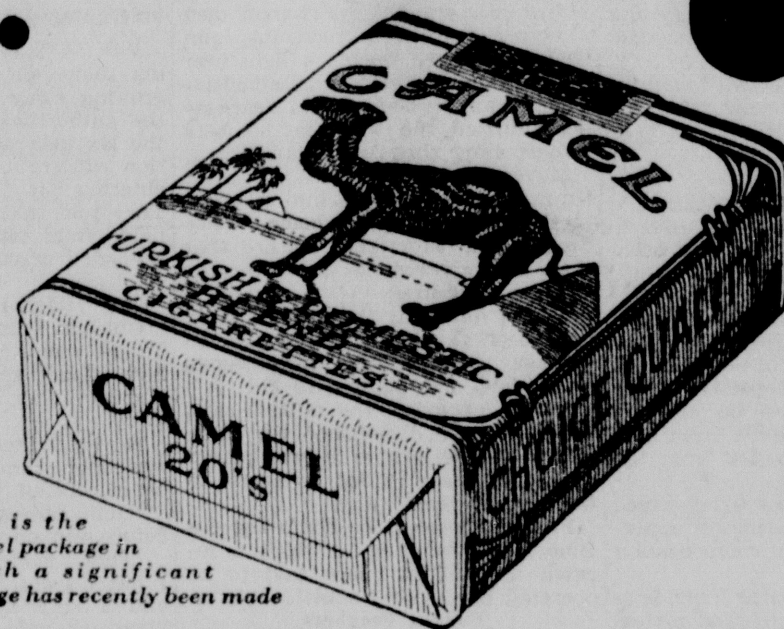

Not many years ago our neighborhood extended only so far as we could go, driving the old gray mare, and return in the same day. Today, with the transportation and communication available, there is no limit to the neighborhood. We can travel thousands of miles in a day. We speak and our voices are heard on the other side of the world. These facts ought to bring us closer together and the imaginary lines that divide us should be disregarded.

We should be loyal to and speak well of the particular localities in which we live and should ever remember that our neighbors have homes that are just as dear to them as our homes are to us.

As our neighborhood has increased in size, there should be a corresponding improvement in the breadth of our understanding and appreciation.

"Gwen"

One more spark to the emotional fires raging in "Royal Family" circles is the rebellion of Gwen Cavendish, 18, against the cherished family plans for her career. The real reason for the revolt is said to be Perry Stewart, good-looking young ex-Princeton football star, with wealthy society and Wall Street connections.
